

Roetzel & Andress Announces Election of New Board of Directors Jeffrey J. Casto stays on as Chairman and CEO

Roetzel & Andress LPA announced today that Jeffrey J. Casto has been re-elected as the firm's Chairman and CEO, while a slate of firm partners has been elected to a newly-constituted Board of Directors. Under Casto's leadership, the board will govern the firm's direction and continued growth.

The new directors include:

Lewis W. Adkins, Jr., Partner, Practice Group Manager, Public Law, Regulatory and Finance, Cleveland

David P. Barker, Partner, Orlando

Lori Heyer-Bednar, Partner-in-Charge, Fort Lauderdale Office and Practice Group Manager, Business Litigation

W. Glenn Jensen, Partner, Practice Group Manager, Bankruptcy & Creditors' Rights, Orlando

Brian J. Moore, Partner, Practice Group Manager, Real Estate, Banking & Finance, Akron

Mark J. Price, Administrative Partner, Naples

Douglas E. Spiker, Partner, Practice Group Manager, Employment Services, Cleveland

"Our new board members have a range of expertise across a number of legal practice areas and all are proven firm leaders," said Casto. "They each bring to the table valuable hands-on experience and valuable insights that will directly benefit the firm going forward and I am very happy to get to work more closely with all of them."

Roetzel is a full-service law firm with 13 offices located throughout Ohio and Florida and in Chicago, New York, and Washington, D.C. The firm provides comprehensive, integrated capabilities in more than 40 legal service areas and offers counsel to national and international corporations, closely held and family-run businesses, institutions, organizations and individuals. The firm represents clients across a broad spectrum of industries, including banking and financial services, healthcare, real estate, insurance, transportation, energy, utilities, oil and gas.

For more information, visit ralaw.com.